

Dev -site questions

1. What are the header graphics dimensions?

In general, the wider the better. The header images will display responsively and automatically adjust their size. By using larger images, you are giving the browser the ability to resize the header without much degradation of image quality, if any at all. The provided royalty free header images are 2600 pixels in width.

2. The Image Slider only lets me add 1 image at a time. Home page example of Image slider.

Yes, this is due to the nature of a slider. It has not only an image, but an optional title, description, and hyperlink.

3. Are we able to change the header photo?

Yes. Click the gear icon, the "Attributes". Scroll down to "Header Background Image". If an image already exists, click the circle-x to remove it, then select "Choose File". If no image has previously been selected, click "Choose File" to select the image from the file picker.

4. Calendar are limited to between 12:00am and 4:05am.

You can type any time into the field. Also, the time drop-down has a search feature with auto-completion. If you click in the field and type "1:00", you will see both 1:00am and 1:00pm in the list. You can then click whichever time you want. You don't need to clear the time that is already in the field when you first click it.

5. If I upload more than one file at a time, it hangs

The current max file size is 50MB. Does the stall occur when attempting to upload files greater than 50MB? If not, please let me know and the max file size can be increased.
